ABOUT NARENDRANAGAR

Nestled in the serene Himalayan foothills in Tehri Garhwal, Uttarakhand, Narendranagar is a scenic hill town known for its natural grandeur, serene environment, heritage character, and panoramic views of the sacred Ganga valley. The town was founded in 1919 by Maharaja Narendra Shah, the ruler of the former Tehri princely state, and was named in his honour. Surrounded by forested slopes and a calm environment, Narendranagar offers a peaceful setting that reflects its royal legacy and cultural roots. It also serves as an important gateway to the Garhwal Himalayas, connecting visitors to spiritual, cultural, and adventure destinations of the region. Narendranagar derives added prominence from its close proximity to Rishikesh, globally celebrated as the Yog Nagari or Yoga Capital of the World. Rishikesh attracts visitors from across the world for yoga, meditation, spiritual learning, and wellness tourism, along with adventure activities such as river rafting and trekking. Together, Narendranagar and Rishikesh form a distinctive spiritual and tourism corridor, where natural beauty, yogic traditions, and cultural heritage blend harmoniously, offering a holistic experience to pilgrims, scholars, wellness seekers, and tourists alike.
