3. R.C. Sharma and Krishna Mohan: Business Correspondence and Report Writing, McGraw Hill Education (India) Pvt. Ltd. Chennai, 5th ed., 2016

Suggested Continuous Evaluation Methods: Since the class is conceived as learner-centric and built around tasks that require learners to actively use various language skills, formative assessment can and should be used extensively. The focus here could be on skills and activities that are harder to test in a written evaluation, such as speaking and listening skills, dictionary work, etc. Oral presentations, peer interviews, and group tasks can be used for this purpose. The end-semester written examination will test all the areas targeted in the course – reading, comprehension, vocabulary, grammar, composition, and oral communication.

Course prerequisites: To study this course, a student must have had the subject English in class/12th/certificate/diploma

BACHELOR OF ARTS
Programme: Bachelor of Arts		Year: III	Semester: V Paper-I
Subject: English
Course Code: UGENG-CC301	Course Title: Introduction to Literature and Film
Course Outcomes: Literature and film have had a close relationship with one another manifest in the celluloid ‘adaptation’ of classics and ‘inspired’ productions in the earlier days to the film text studies of recent times. The writer and the auteur both produce art that oftentimes is in conversation particularly since the cultural revolution of modernism. This paper attempts to trace the genealogy of this collaborative mediation between literature and cinema between the textual and the visual.
